Friday, October 18. 1706.

London, October 18.

The Capitulation demanded by Major General Mahony Commander in chief of the Forces in the Castle of Alicant, of Brigadier General Gorge, Commander in chief of the Land Forces of the Allies, for the Surrender of the said Castle of Alicant: Dated in the Camp between the City of Alicant and the Castle, the 4th of September, One Thousand Seven Hundred and Six.

I. THAT the Castle of Alicant shall be deliver'd to the Army of the Allies the 4th Day after the Signing of this Capitulation, in case a competent Succour for its Preservation do not arrive before the Close of the Evening of the said Day, that is to say the 8th of this present Month of September New Stile, One Thousand Seven Hundred and Six. That Evening shall be deliver'd to the Troops of the Allies the Gate and Pallisades of the Bastilla, and the Garrison shall possess the Gate of St. Ann and the rest of the Castle as they actually now do, and in the Interim no Hostilities shall be committed on the one side or other either by Officer, Soldier, or Miqueler, neither shall they be permitted to enter the Castle untill it is wholly Evacuated and all the Troops march'd out: Further those that are of the Army or in the Interest of the Allies shall not be permitted to go within Pistol-shot of the Castle until the Troops are march'd out; nor shall any come among the Troops in their March from the Castle to the Place of their imbarcking, nor there, but such as are appointed to embarke them, to avoid all Confusion: For the Performance of this Brigadier General Gorge shall give strict Orders.

II. That the Garrison shall march out unmolested, as well Officers as Subalterns, the Horse and Dragoons on Foot, the Artillery and Ammunition thro' the Gate of St. Ann and its Drawbridge, Drums beating, Trumpets sounding, Colours flying, Match lighted at both Ends, and Ball in Mouth. The Soldiers provided with Twenty five Charges of Shot, all to be embark'd at the nearest and most convenient Place to the Castle and Fleet as now anchor'd; to be transported either to Cadiz, or Roses in Catalonia, at Major General Mahony's Election.

III. That the Soldiers shall carry along with them what they can upon their Backs; and shall be subsisted with Bread, Meat, and Wine, such as can be had out of the Castle, for the Days the Garrison may be on board before their Landing at the Place appointed; and that the Officers on all Occasions shall be distinguish'd according to their Stations.

IV. That no Baggage belonging to any Officer shall be search'd or look'd into on any Pretext whatsoever, nor any other Baggage belonging to any of the Garrison; and that the said Garrison shall have a safe Convoy to the Place appointed.

V. That Major General Mahony give strict Orders for discovering to the Officers appointed by Brigadier General Gorge, all the Magazines, Ammunition, Stores and Provisions, that may be in the Castle; as also the Mines, and Stores that are over and above the Number of the Garrison.

VI. That the Ingeniers, Miners, Bombardiers, and the rest that serve in the Artillery march out the same Day and at the same Gates, with four Pieces of Brass Cannon and two Brass Mortars, at Major General Mahony's Election; and Ammunition to serve and discharge each Piece and Mortar Twenty five Times.

VII. That the wounded and sick that are found in the Castle and not able to be transported at present, shall be conducted immediately into the City of Alicant, to the Hospital or any particular House directed; and there shall be treated with all Necessaries fit for their Cure and Subsistence. The same is to be understood of the sick and wounded remaining in the City, until all are able to joyn the King of Spain's Troops: For which, Baggage, Mules, Waggons or Ships, and Passports, shall be allow'd them, with Convoy necessary; in which Time they shall not be oblig'd to take Service.

VIII. That if at the End of the four Days mention'd in the first Article, that is to say on the Eighth of this present September, the Transport Ships should not be ready for receiving the Garrison, they shall stay in the upper Part of the Castle till all is ready for Imbarcation; after which Sir John Leake shall give his Word, to send them away to the Place appointed, with all the Speed that Wind and Weather will permit, without any Delay in any Seaport-Town, or Place, on any Prettext whatsoever.

IX. That the Prisoners on both Sides, whether Officers, Soldiers, Peasants, Women, or Servants, of what Condition soever, taken since the Seventh of July of this present Year, on which Day the City and Castle of Alicant were block'd up by Sea and Land, be restor'd; and that without paying any thing whatsoever.

X. That no Officer, Soldier, or any Person now in the Castle shall be imprison'd or detain'd for any Debts contracted, giving only their Obligation for the satisfying their Creditors, in as good a Form as they can; and Major General Mahony offers to do what depends on him for the Satisfaction of the said Debts.

XI. That with the Garrison may march out some disguis'd Persons, who shall not be examin'd on any Prettext whatsoever.

XII. That the Deserters of the one side and the other, shall not be molested, but treated as the rest, whether they have taken Service or not.

XIII. That the Officers and others who have Effects in the Castle, and who cannot presently remove them, may do it in the Space of Thirty Days, or dispose of them as they shall think fit; for which Carriage and Passports shall be allow'd if necessary.

XIV. That the General Officers of the Allies commanding by Land, shall give Passports the shortest Way that Major General Mahony shall chuse, for two of his Officers to go to the Army of the King of Spain, to give an Account of the Reduction of the Castle.

XV. That any Officer or Person of the Garrison of the Castle, that have Horses, Mules, Cloths, or Baggage, in the Town, under the Obedience of the Allies, shall have Leave to withdraw them in Twenty five Days.

XVI. That the Gentry, and other Persons of what Degree soever, may return to their respective Homes, (except to the City of Murcia) without Molestation, or go with the Garrison, at their Election, and are to have Passports to conduct them safe.

That all these Articles of Capitulation, and the Propositions contain'd in each Article abovemention'd, shall have no strain'd Exceptions, Interpretations, or Equivocations whatsoever, but be understood and observed as is written Word for Word.

Sept. 4. 1706.

DANIEL MAHONY.
RICHARD GORGE.

Pursuant

Pursuant to this Capitulation, Major General Mahony and his Garrison were imbarc'd at Alicant the 9th or 10th of September, and as the last Advices by the Way of France say, have been landed at Cadix.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated Oct. 19.

Maesricht, October 16. M. d'Obdam, the States General of Horse, arriv'd here Yesterday from Aix la Chapelle with all his Family, under a Guard of Horse. M. Meyerkroon, lately Envoy extraordinary of Denmark to the Court of France, whence he was returning home, came from Aix la Chappelle the 1st of this Month at 9 in the Morning, with a Guard of 35 Men, having a French Passport, and his Guard having White Paper in their Hats with other Tokens necessary to make themselves known: A League without Aix la Chappelle he was attack'd by a Party of French commanded by one Makeney: The said Party fell upon his Guard in a narrow Way, crying out throw down your Arms; and presently after 2 Musquet-Shots were heard to go off at some Distance from the Guard: The said Party immediately let fly at the Guard, and continued to doing some time, the Guard not returning their Fire. Some of the Party came down into the narrow Way, and pursued a fine Coach in which was the Nephew of M. Meyerkroon Secretary of the Embassy, whom they kill'd with several Shot: Which done the Envoy himself was seiz'd and detain'd almost 3 Hours, and the Party-Leader Mackeney carried him back to Aix la Chappelle, after his Nephew who was kill'd had been strip'd. Court Horn, who was taken Prisoner by the Alleis, and is now at Aix la Chappelle, reprehended the Party-Leader very sharply for this infamous Action.

In a few Days will be publish'd,

Athenian Sport: Or, Two Thousand Paradoxes merrily argued, to Amuse and Divert the Age: As, A Paradox in praise of a Paradox: Corporeal Affections remain after Separation. The Eye beholds as much when it looks on a Shilling, as when it speculates the whole Heaven. Every Man is corporally born twice. The Rector's Maidenhead, or a marry'd Woman may be twice a Virgin. Athenian, or Intellectual Sport, is the Recreation of Pre-existent Spirits. 'Tis the Pleasantest Life to be always in danger. The famous numerical Voice of a Preacher is not heard by any two of his Auditors. What we call Life, is Natural Death. He is the Happiest Man who has neither Money nor Friend. Green come from the Dead, or no Man lives but he that is Hang'd. The Virgin-Paradox, or a Young Lady may Love and Hate the same Person at the same Time. That Burning alive is no Torment. And so on, to the defence of 2000 Paradoxes, which seem contrary to the common Opinion. With Improvements from the Hon. Mr. Boyle, Lock, Norris, Collier, Cowley, Dryden, Garth, Addison, and other illustrious Wits.
